THE MEET ENDED IN A STORM

[BT TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]
Asbury Park, N. J., July 13.—The annual jubilee and race meet of the L. A. W. has been brought to a close, but the visiting cyclists show a disposition to linger a little longer before they start for their homes. It has been a week of hustle and bustle weather to-day was threatening, and it affected the attendance at the races, yet 6,000 people were present in the afternoon, and probably half that number in the morning. The expenses of the meet have been heavy, and the profits, probably, will not be large. The races have been excellent not be large. The races have been excellent throughout, and the experiment of running Classes A. B and I at the same meet must be pronounced success. The visitors to the city by the sec have had a good time, and the hours have passed se pleasantly that many of the cyclists whose busi-

RACING STOPPED BY A STORM. It was 4:30 o'clock when the two-mile professional race was finished. The track was clear, and the men in the two-mile Class B handicap were coming from their quarters to ride in the final heat. Then the dense clouds, which had been gathering above the track for half an hour, broke and poured down such a storm as never before was seen in this part of the country. Slowly at first, but with rapidly increasing fury, came torrents of halistones, each the size of a pigeon's egg. The smallest of them would measure an inch in circumference, and the largest among them were nearly twice as big. They were mostly round or oval in shape, but sprinkled ong them were some beautiful star shapes. The nomenal discharge of halistones continued for fifteen minutes. They pelted on the roof of the grandstand, under which the entire assemblage was huddled, and the sound was like a fusillade of bullets. They plashed into the water of Deal Lake, which lies beside the track, and sprayed it appeared positive the lake looked like a prying of upward until the lake looked like a myriad of

Time—36 sec. For many of the spectators the exhibition was rand and imposing, but some of the women were larmed by the vehemence of the storm. The thun-er was not loud nor the lightning vivid, but the der was not loud nor the lightning vivid, but the former had a suilen depth that suggested a dread potentiality, and the clouds of inky hue made the earth as dark as if an eclipse was occurring. Some of the track officials, who had ventured to remain beneath the temporary canvas shelter, erected to sheld them from the sun, amused themselves and the spectators by throwing the ley stones at each other or standing out on the track batting them with canes as they bounded upward.

After the hall came a deluge of rain, equally as facte, and in five minutes the track resembled a mind yriver, swirling around in an oval. In an modity river, swirling around in an oval. In an indur the storm had spent itself, but the condition of the grounds would permit of no more racing, and the announcement of postponement until Monday afternoon for the unfinished contests was made.

7. A. Zimmerman, father of the champion, and some other residents in this part of the State, in discussing the storm subsequently, declared that it was beyond question the most severe ever known in the storm subsequently.

The first severe accident of the week occurred this arning. Edwin Stone, of No. 274 West Tenth-st., ew-York, was riding along Main-st., near the

The Banner of Light is, as every one knows, one of the most successful denominational publications issued in this country.

In its 77th volume it is at once conservative and bright, discussing not only modern Spiritualism, but frequently lending its influence fearlessly in matters of public importance outside its principal field.

Mr. John W. Day, who is the editor and one of the proprietors, writes in The Banner of Light as follows to 'he proprietors of Paine's celery compound:

"I owe you a debt of gratitude in placing on the market such a nerve-easing and soothing remedy as Paine's celery compound. It was brought to my notice by a friend who had himself been greatly relieved by its use, as I have also been.

Pittman finished last. E. C. Bald won the quarter-mile National championship, after a spirited struggle with Ray McDonald. They battled all the way down the homestretch. C. R. Coliter won the other Class B contest rather easily. The Class A contests were won by Charles M. Ertz, C. L. Leatherbury and J. M. Baldwin. R. H. A LARGE ATTENDANCE AT BRIGHTON

THREE VICTORIES FOR THE ALL SCARLET-FA-

An unusually large crowd attended the race at Brighton Beach yesterday afternoon. As often happens, when an extremely promising card attracts a crowd to a racetrack, the finicky owners and trainers withdraw the star attractions. In the face of the mutilation of the card the racing was high-cass, and the crowd was well satisfied. Some of the heavy betters have taken a decided stand in regard to the gyrations of form in some of the horses when ridden by a taken whom averthody at the track ridden by a jockey whom everybody at the track uspects except the stewards. The contrasts of orm when ridden by other jockeys are so great that nothing else was talked about in the paddock and on the lawn yesterday afternoon.

and on the lawn yesterday afternoon.

A. H. & D. H. Morris were successful in three races, but their profits were materially reduced when Samuel Levy bid Gutta Percha up to $2,000 in the third race. Some of the horse owners present asked A. H. Morris to ascertain if Mr. Levy was responsible person and in good standing with the Jockey Club. Mr. Morris did as requested, and after a diligent inquiry it was found that Mr. Levy was a business man and all right in every way. So far as Mr. Morris was concerned, he did right, as reputable owners desire to know the men who bid on horses, so as to prevent intimidation or possible blackmail.

Henry Stedeker was a victim of the watchful eyes of the guardians of the law yesterday. He was detected, it is said, taking money. This resulted in his being taken outside the gates. It was reported that Inspector McKelvey, of Brooklyn, was the man who caught Stedeker, and that the latter was placed under arrest.

The layers of odds are up in arms against what they term an imposition. Thomas Eagan and Charles Primrose have purchased certain privileges at the Brighton Reach and Aqueduct racetracks. They have decided to charge the layers of odds $19 a day for each chair occupied by themselves and their assistants at the Aqueduct meeting. The leading ayers of odds declare that they do not object to paying liberally to support racing, but that they bject most emphatically to paying tribute to men who have never contributed a penny to support men are violently opposed to such an innovation, of squabbles between the gamblers and the parasites who live off their labors. Lively times are expected at Aqueduct to-morrow unless the Jockey Club takes prompt action to prevent a disgraceful quarrel between the layers of odsd and the men who speculate on technicalities.

J. W. Rogers starts for Saratoga with his stable on Tuesday. Mr. Rogers withtrew Dorian from the fourth race at the last minute, so as to give the public a chanse to see what the horsemen believed would be a close match between Lovdal and Stephen J. The public were not disappointed, as the race was hotly contested from flagfall to finish. The spectators in the grandstand were on their feet during the whole race and the excitement was intense as the pair raced head and head for nearly seven furlongs of the distance. All around the home turn and into the stretch, Griffin on Lovdal and Hamilton on Stephen J. worked like demons on their mounts, and the crowd cheered lustily as they swung into the homestretch. It was a question of gameness, as both jockeys rode superbly. Inder whip and spur, amid a roar of applause from the spectaiors, Lovdal slowly drew away from his opponent—who gave way under the severe pressure—and won one of the best races run this year in the fast time (for Brighton) of 2:084. Some of the trainers timed the race in 2:08 flat. Colonel Daniel Burns won heavily on the race, and Lovdal's victory was a popular one, and Griffin was loudly cheered when he returned to the scales.

Intermission was the surprise of the day, as she won the second race handly from an excellent field of two-year-olds. Religion was an even-money favorite, and carried a large commission for "Deacon" John J. McCafferty. Gold Crest was the sucond choice at 2 to 1. Premier at 6 and Intermission at 8 to 1 had many supporters. The start was a good one, but the undue haste of R. AZOTE KING OF THE GELDINGS. HE BEATS FANTASY AND DOES A MILE EASILY

IN 2:07%.

Lacrosse, Wis., July 13.-Fantasy acted badly and Azote became the champion trotting gelding at the big free-for-all trot yesterday afternoon. The betting on the race was brisk, Fantasy selling for $10 and the field $11, both ends being in demand. The race was won by the big Salisbury gelding in straight heats, the first of which was trotted in 207%, which is a half-second faster than Ryland T.'s champion mile, made last summer in Cleve-land. Fantasy simply refused to trot whenever she was called on, and Phoebe Wilkes, the only rantasy scored away tosether and raced to the three-quarters almost as one horse. The former then went ahead and led into the stretch by a length and a half. The daughter of Chimes was urged several times, but she was tired, and simply quit trying when the seven-eighths pole was reached. Azote won in a joz, and could have tretted the mile in 206 had there been anything to force him. Phoebe Wilkes barely saved her dis-

LARNED THE CHAMPION OF CANADA. THE TENNIS EXPERT ADDS THAT TITLE TO HIS LAURELS-BRILLIANT CLOSE OF THE TOURNAMENT.

Niagara, Ont., July 13 (Special).—The champion-ship matches in the Canadian Tennis tournament were played here to-day before a large crowd. In the morning W. A. Larned, the Middle States cham-pion, met R. W. S. Matthews, of Toronto, the holder of the Canadian championship cup, and defeated him in three straight sets, thereby winning the trophy. Matthews has had little tournament play this season, and was not in his usual form, while Larned has been playing brilliant tennis all the week and fairly walked through his opponent in the first two sets, taking them 6-2, 6-2. In the this? set he held the advantage, 5—1, on the same easy but relentless driving which marked his play in the opening sets, but then dropped his form and allowed Matthews to score four straight games. He picked up the next game, but again Matthews tied the score. This caused momentary excitement in the Canadian section, but Larned settled all doubts by running out the next two games in quick order, which gave him the match and the championship.

Meanwhile, on an adjoining court, Fritz Ward, of Rochester, had met and defeated Arthur Taylor, of the West Side Club, New-York, in the handicap

pionship match, in the afternoon. Miss Maud Os-born, of Sutton, Ont., was drawn against Mrs. Sydney Smith, of Ottawa, for the defence of her trophy, which another victory would have made her final possession. Miss Osborn opened strongly, taking the first set 6-3, but her opponent's superior endurance finally won the day and she was defeated in the two following sets, 6-2, 6-3. The week closed with a hop in the evening in the Queen's Royal Hotel, given in honor of the visiting

ENGLEWOOD FIELD CLUB TENNIS. The annual tennis tournament of the Englewood Field Club is now in progress, and play will be ended early next week. There is a larger number of entries than usual, and interest in the game is almost as keen as during the earlier years of the club's existence. Some of the younger girls have come to the front with a rush this year, notably Miss Helen Homans, who is playing a remarkably strong game. Miss H. 8. Banks, of Vassar, is also playing ground strokes nicely, while the volley play of Miss Mowry is better than ever. The veterans find their hands full when they encounter some of the younger boys, especially the Blyth brothers, or Clinton Meserole. The annual tennis tournament of the Englewood
